Psychology Alumnus Testimonial

“The University of Pittsburgh-Greensburg offers a variety of opportunities. I lived on-campus for four years; this made it easier to be involved in both my studies and extracurriculars. What I remember most are the people, professors and fellow students. My parents attended the University of Pittsburgh’s Oakland campus, yet I preferred this regional campus’ safe, home-like atmosphere.”

— Vanessa Malinowski, Class of 2013

Vanessa Malinowski, a 2013 graduate of psychology with a philosophy minor. Vanessa now works for the Social Security Office. While at Pitt-Greensburg, she obtained an internship at New Story, working with special needs children. Vanessa was involved with Active Minds, Psi Chi, Circle K, and served as an assistant at the Learning Center on campus. Vanessa was able to present her senior thesis research on Cyberbullying at Pitt-Johnstown, and she served as a research assistant to Dr. Asplin on Juvenile Recidivism. Vanessa won two scholarships while at Pitt-Greensburg: the Helen Connors Psychology Award, and the Leonardo Da Vinci Scholarship.
